Be still, my soul, thy Lord has called thee;
His small voice will steady thee.
Fear not, my soul, thy God's beside thee;
His right hand will strengthen thee.

I've found my home in the shadow of His wings,
And in His arms there's everlasting peace.
My only hope comes from the mighty King,
Who loves me and gave His life for me.

Awake, my soul, thy God's renewed thee;
You shall walk and not grow faint.
Arise, my soul, thy Lord's prepared thee;
You shall trust and overcome.

I've found my home in the shadow of His wings,
And in His arms there's everlasting peace.
My only hope comes from the mighty King,
Who loves me...

I've found my home in the shadow of His wings,
And in His arms there's everlasting peace.
My only hope comes from the mighty King,
Who loves me, and gave His life for me.
Who knows me by every breath I breathe,
Lord, let me be yours eternally.

Come and rest in the King
Come and rest in the King
Come and rest in the King
Come and rest in the King
